THE Letter A-la-main, by the last Mail from FRANCE, says, That the Court of Vienna will not go into Mourning, on account of the Death of the Duke of Wirtemberg, nor cause any Solemn Service to be perform'd on that Occasion; he being no Relation nor Ally to the House of Austria, but only a Servant of that Family, who for his Merit advanc'd him. The Author of that Letter understands to foresee, that the Death of this Prince will cause some Trouble from the Protestants in that Duchy; and that they will take this Opportunity, to reject the Roman Catholick Religion out of Wirtemberg.

Last Saturday se'nnight, at Five in the Afternoon, the Princes and Princesses of the Blood of France, went to the King's Apartment, to which the Queen, the Dauphin, and his Royal Sisters the Princesses attended; the Dauphin dress'd in Silver Tissue embroidered, with the famous Diamond about his Neck, and the Regent. Then all the Company went into the Chapel, where the Cardinal de Rohan, Great Almoner of France, administer'd the Ceremonies of Baptism to the Dauphin, whose Sureties were the Duke of Orleans and the Duchess Dowager. Then the same was administer'd to the three Princesses his Sisters, all together; when the Duke of Chartres and the Princess of Conti, were Sureties for the First Princess; the Duke and the Duchess of Bourbon, for the Second; and the Count de Charolois and Mademoiselle de Clermont, for the Third. The King and Queen sign'd the Acts with the Princes and Princesses of the Blood; and the Ceremony was concluded with Singing Te Deum. The Name of the Dauphin is Lewis, that of the First Princess Mary Louisa, the Second Mary Elizabeth, and that of the Third, Mary, with the Name of the Queen of Poland.

Though a Resolution has been taken in the Senate of Venice, and which has also been notify'd at Vienna, that the Republick shall act in Concert with the Emperor against the Turks; yet the Venetian Government will not declare itself publicly on that subject, till they have receiv'd an Answer from the Imperial Court, and that all Things are ready for Action. Mean while 'tis said the Venetians insist on having Turkish Dalmatia, a Part of Albania, and the Morea, for their Share of the Conquests that may be made on the Porte; and 'tis said, moreover, that they want the Emperor to leave those three Countries to them, and form no Pretension on the Counties thereon depending.

The Imperial Court has receiv'd an Express from their Minister Baron Dahlman, with the Copy of a Writing deliver'd to him by Order of the Ottoman Ministry, to this Effect:

It has been resolv'd that the Plenipotentiaries shall be ready to set out from Babadog, immediately after the Festival called Little Bayram, to Okadow, to cross the River Bog, and repair to Kudac, situate in the Turkish Dominions, opposite to those of Russia, in Order there to fix the Place of Congress.

Letters from Constantinople, by the Way of Venice, say, that the Turks are indeed making vast Preparations for War, and that their Troops in Europe suppos'd to amount to 200000 Men; but that the fourths of them are new-raisd and undisciplin'd. And that notwithstanding their utmost Efforts, they are in no Condition to maintain a long Contest with the Russians; especially if they are assisted by Imperial Troops: Besides, that the Treasures of the Porte have been so exhausted by the long and destructive War in Persia, that it would be almost impossible for the Turkish Ministers to raise Money enough to defray the Expences of a new War against the Christians; several Extraordinary Taxes having been already imposed throughout the Empire. At the same time the Turks have so neglected their Naval Armament in the Adriatick, by bending all their Main Force to defend the Crim Tartary against the Russians, that they have scarce 10 Men of War fit out to Sea.

Birr, in Ireland, April 9. Last Wednesday Night about 10 o'Clock, the House of Mr. William Wilkinson, who is accounted famous for making Steel Bits, was burnt, with the Stable and 2 Horses. It was burnt by the Carelessness of his Servant that lay in the Stable. His House was burnt about 2 Years ago.

Marlborough, April 9. Phelim M'Donnel, who was to be hang'd for Burglary and Felony, made his Escape out of our Gaol, in the following Manner. Being a Protestant, he sent for a Clergyman to administer the Sacrament to him; with the Clergyman came his Mother, Brother, and Sisters; when the Jailor was removing the rest, who were Papists, into another Room, Phelim told the Clergyman, he was not then prepared, but desired he would come the next Day; then by some Means having got off his Bolts, he changed Cloaths with his Brother (who sat down in his Place) put on his Mother's Ridinghood, and went off in that Disguise. He had lately made his Recantation, by which he recovered an Estate of 150 l. per Annum from his Uncle.

Roscommon, April 6. Mr. Michael Waldron, of Correll, dying of a Palsy, is very much lamented by all the Gentlemen of the Province of Connaught, as he was a Gentleman of the most agreeable Temper, pleasant in Conversation, generous and mild, abounding with Hospitality, Honour, and Honesty.

Armagh, April 9. On Monday the 4th Instant, William Richardson of Rich-Hill, Esq; High Sheriff of this County, made the most splendid Appearance that has been ever seen in this County: When he met the Judges he was dressed in a blue Cloth laced with Gold, his Furniture was green Velvet, richly embroidered with Gold, 26 Servants in Livery, 30 led Horses, 6 Halberds, 6 Men and a Gentleman to wait on him; the Livery was a fine grey Cloth, the Button-Holes wrought with Gold, and scarlet Waistcoats laced with the same, and fine Furniture; his Halberds all rode white Horses. As he is a Gentleman endowed with the most amiable Qualities to make a Gentleman esteem'd, so there were the most numerous Appearance of Gentlemen to accompany him that has been seen on the like Occasion: On Wednesday Evening he gave a most splendid Ball and Entertainment at the Court-house, where was above 40 Dishes of Meat, with Variety of choice Sweetmeats and Liquors of all Sorts, and the Night concluded with Bonfires, Ringing of Bells, and all other Demonstrations of Joy. Mr. Richardson every Day, during the Assizes, dress'd in different Suits of the richest Sorts.

There are several tal Felons to be transport'd, among which are a Man, his Wife, and his Son.

Kilkenny, April 13. Yesterday our Assizes ended here, when 8 Felons were convicted to be hang'd and one to be Quarter'd, for the Murder of a Boy of 9 Years old; the Boy had been keeping Cows, and because he would not suffer the Man who murder'd him to trespass on the Land where he was, the Man came to him, and gave his Head two or three such severe twists, as dislocated his Neck, so that he died immediately.

Among those condemn'd for Felony, there were two Women, who pleaded their Bellies, upon which there were a Jury of Matrons call'd, who brought in their Verdict, not Pregnant.

One of the Cow-keepers behaved in a very audacious Manner the whole Time of the Trial, and when the Jury brought in their Verdict Guilty, he clap'd on his Hat, and fell to cursing the Court and Jury.
